Off-Campus Access: Setup your Barcode to use articles, journals, and more

When off campus, Lehman patrons can access all databases, e-journals, e-books, and other subscription resources by using their Library Barcode.

- Your Library Barcode is located on the front of your ID Card (see above). Enter the number without spaces or dashes.
- Your barcode must be activated in the CUNY library system. If your barcode is not activated, complete this form: <http://lehman.libwizard.com/technicalproblem>
